CHARGE OF ROBBERY.

Men Arrested For Drunkenness Accused of More Serious Offense.

Frank Wallace and J. W. Boyd, both claiming to be locomotive engineers, were arrested at 2:30 this morning for drunkenness by Officer Pack. While he was on the way to the station with them, a man who gave his name as Frank Harris, came rushing up and said that the men had been in the Klondike saloon, where he was tending bar, and had tried to rob him. From Harris' story, it seems that he was sleeping on the floor and the two men came in and, kicking him in the head two or three times, had gone through his pockets. Harris had several severe brilies to substantiate his story.

The men were booked only for drunkenness and trespass, but there will probably be some interesting facts turn up in their trial today. aiming to be locomotive engineers.
